Description of Activity:

Volunteers of National Service Scheme and staff visited village Khubavali in Mulshi Taluka to help farmers in rice plantation. Agriculture forms the foundation and backbone of Indian socioeconomic system. Mulshai and western regions of Pune district farmers grow rice as the major crop. The human resources available for the agricultural activities is limited to family members of the farmers only and due to poor economy they can't afford to hire labors.

Therefore this activity was designed to provide the manpower of volunteers of the National Service Scheme (NSS) to help the farmers. It was also aimed to provide the opportunity to students to study the farming activities, process and understand the rural economy. The activities were focused on intense observations and analysis of the socioeconomic profile of farm families in rural area, participatory extension approach and acquaintance with farming situations, farm practices and interaction with progressive farmers.

Activity highlights:

1. The site: Students reached village khubavali early morning at 7am using college bus.
2. Basic education: Local farmer Mr. Kiran Satpute and his family briefed the students about how rice farming is done. They were shown the seedling plot where rice crops are germinated in bulk by throwing seeds and then transported to the main field for plantation.

3. Plantation of the seedlings: Students removed the grown seedlings, divided them into small bunches as instructed by the farmers and carried them to the main field. The main field was converted into a mud plot. The seedlings were then planted into the main plant in straight lines.
4. Area of work: Rice plantation was done over an area of 3.5 acres.

Learning about the harvesting process: The team was educated by the farmers about the crop duration and harvesting process. They were introduced to the milling process and forecasted yield of the rice grains.

Description of Activity:

Constitution Day, also known as Samvidhan Diwas, is observed in India on November 26th every year to commemorate the adoption of the Indian Constitution on this day in 1949. It is a significant occasion that reminds citizens of the principles and values enshrined in the Constitution and the responsibilities that come with being a part of a democratic nation. AISSMS College of Pharmacy celebrated Constitution Day with great enthusiasm to promote Constitution values among citizens. This day served as an important tool for instilling a sense of pride and responsibility among students and faculty members. It provided an opportunity for everyone to reflect on the significance of the Indian Constitution and the rights it bestows upon the citizens. By organizing various activities and events, the college demonstrated its commitment to fostering awareness and understanding of the Constitution, which serves as the bedrock of India's democratic values. The celebration served as a reminder to the academic community about the importance of being responsible citizens and contributing to the progress of the nation in alignment with the ideals laid out in the Indian Constitution.

Event Highlights:

- 1) Preamble Pledge of the Constitution of India: Teaching, non teaching staff and students gathered on the ground floor of the college. Everyone read the pledge of the preamble of the Constitution of India with a sense of being responsible for the duties and constitutional obligations.
- 2) Lecture on constitutional duties, rights and obligations: Ms. Sakshi Shinde, a student of SY B Pharm delivered a lecture for sensitizing the students and staff towards duties and rights of the citizen and constitutional obligations. She reinforced the importance of active citizenship, respect for others' rights, and the need to fulfill one's duties towards the nation and society.

Through such initiatives, AISSMS College of Pharmacy demonstrated its commitment to nurturing well-informed, engaged, and conscientious citizens who will contribute positively to the nation's progress and uphold the principles laid down in the Constitution. The activity's success also highlights the institution's dedication to promoting holistic education that goes beyond academic excellence and includes a strong sense of civic responsibility among its students.

Description of Activity:

NSS Unit of AISSMS College of Pharmacy undertook a village cleaning activity in village Wadki which is the adopted village for NSS activities. The purpose of this initiative was to promote cleanliness, raise awareness about waste management, and instill a sense of responsibility among the villagers towards maintaining a clean and hygienic environment. The event not only promoted cleanliness but also fostered a sense of community spirit and responsibility among the villagers and the college community. The active participation of the villagers showcased their commitment to maintaining a clean and hygienic environment. By engaging with the villagers during the awareness campaign, the college students effectively conveyed the significance of waste management and sustainable practices. The event served as a stepping stone towards building a cleaner and healthier village environment. AISSMS College of Pharmacy remains committed to organizing such initiatives, promoting environmental consciousness, and making a positive impact on society. By continuing to collaborate with the villagers and other communities, the college aims to contribute to the broader goal of achieving a cleaner and more sustainable world.

Activities:

- 1) Planning and Coordination: Prior to the event, the students and faculty members organized a planning meeting to discuss the logistics and ensure a smooth execution of the village cleaning activity. The areas to be cleaned were identified, and teams were formed for efficient cleaning.
- 2) Cleaning Drive: NSS volunteers gathered at the village center. They were divided into groups, each assigned to clean specific areas such as streets, public spaces, and common gathering areas.
- 3) Waste Segregation: The participants were trained in waste segregation techniques. They carried separate bins for different types of waste to ensure recyclable items were separated from non-recyclable ones.
- 4) Awareness Campaign: Along with the cleaning drive, an awareness campaign was conducted by the students. They interacted with the villagers, explaining the importance of keeping the environment clean and the adverse effects of littering.
- 5) Cleaning Tools and Equipment: The college provided the necessary cleaning tools and equipment, including gloves, brooms, dustbins, and trash bags, to ensure the safety and effectiveness of the activity.

Description of Activity:

NSS volunteers and faculty members from AISSMS College of Pharmacy conducted an educational program at a rural school in village Wadki. The primary focus of this initiative was to promote tolerance, understanding, and harmony among the young students towards cultural, linguistic, communal, and socioeconomic diversity in their community.

Activities:

- 1) Interactive Sessions: The program began with interactive sessions led by NSS volunteers. These sessions included discussions, storytelling, and games, all centered around themes of cultural, linguistic, communal, and socioeconomic diversity. These activities were designed to make the learning experience engaging and enjoyable for the school students.
- 2) Introduction to various spoken languages: Students were introduced to various spoken languages apart from their mother tongue (Marathi) like Hindi, English, Gujrati, Sanskrut and Kannada. Basic phrases and greetings were taught, encouraging the children to embrace linguistic diversity and communicate with each other in various languages.

- 3) Socioeconomic Awareness: Discussions were held to help the students understand various socioeconomic backgrounds. The college students shared inspiring stories of individuals who overcame challenges to achieve success, reinforcing the importance of empathy and support for their peers.
- 4) Drawing competition: A drawing competition was organized for the school students with the theme of cultural diversity.

1.7. CODE OF CONDUCT FOR VIRTUAL LEARNING

There are many changes in this new semester, especially the virtual teaching-learning process that you need to adapt to. The college expects you to display utmost regard for the rules and regulations of the institution and maintain a high standard of online academic discipline. We are committed to our academic duty of providing high-quality education to students even if it is through a virtual platform. Therefore, we expect your complete cooperation to make this online teaching-learning process successful. Although your classroom will be a virtual one, we expect the same standards of behavior as we do on campus. We have prepared a code of conduct to help you understand the online etiquette that you are supposed to follow. Go through the guidelines given below before attending online classes and keep them in mind at all times.

- Attend every class as per the time mentioned in the schedule by clicking on the Google Meet/MS Team/Zoom link provided by the respective subject teacher. Wait till the teacher lets you in. You are supposed to join the online class 5 minutes before the scheduled time. A maximum grace period of 5 minutes is allowed after the class starts. Do not waste the teacher's time by attempting to enter the class after that.
- When the class is on, you are supposed to keep your video off and microphone muted so that there is no interference in the class proceedings. Use headphones to ensure that you can hear the teacher properly. Switch on your microphone when the teacher asks you to speak.

- Select a profile picture that is appropriate for attending an online class. A simple headshot is recommended. Refrain from switching on any virtual background.
- You may be asked to switch on your video any time so dress appropriately and be properly groomed.
- The formal environment of the online class requires you to use appropriate language. Use complete sentences while communicating with the teacher through the chat box or by using unmute audio option. Avoid using abbreviations, emoticons, slang, etc. If any student is found using obscene, disrespectful, threatening language while communicating, strict disciplinary action will be taken by the college authority.
- Do not share the joining link of any online class with students of other colleges or friends. Misusing or distributing the study materials uploaded in the Google classrooms will be treated as academic misconduct. Copying information from online sources or other students for the assignments given in class is considered plagiarism and is strictly prohibited.
- Attendance is a crucial component of the online learning process. Follow the instructions given by the teacher so that your attendance is recorded properly. You are supposed to attend a class for the entire duration mentioned in the routine to get the attendance.
- Visit the college website regularly to check the virtual notice board for updates. Join the Whatsapp groups and Google classrooms created for all your subjects according to the instructions provided by the respective departments. All important information, notifications, and announcements will be conveyed to you through these platforms. You are responsible for staying informed and tracking important updates from the college and your teachers. You are not permitted to violate this code of conduct or cause disruption in the online class proceedings. Any inappropriate behaviour will be reported to the disciplinary committee and strict action will be taken against the student/students involved as per the regulations of the committee.

We look forward to engaging with you in the online teaching-learning process and help you achieve your academic goals through the digital platform in these changing times. This is the time to show resilience and move forward with determination and a positive attitude. We believe that your support and cooperation will help us in making your online academic journey worthwhile.

1.8. FACULTY DUTIES (Teaching and Support Staff)

1. Faculty members are expected to conduct Classes/Lab Work in appropriate manner as required by the course assigned.

9. Strict action will be taken for violation of above mentioned rules.

1.11. CODE OF CONDUCT FOR PRINCIPAL

Principals of highly effective colleges are well-respected leaders not afraid to serve their teachers and students. They lead by example but avoid intruding on their teachers' unique teaching methods. They listen to their students' ideas and set a cooperative tone. However, they have the courage to make unpopular decisions when warranted. A principal's influence is far-reaching, as proven by a study published. For this reason, principals are held to high ethical standards and are required to adhere to a strict code of conduct.

Make Ethical Decisions

Principals should make all their decisions based on the best interests of the students.

Principals should never put their interests above the greater good of the college they serve.

They should be fair in their disciplinary actions for both staff and students.

They should follow due process and respect the rights of all human beings.

Honors Commitments

Principals must stand by their word.
They need to honor all aspects of their employment contract.

Maintains Professional Boundaries

Principals must refrain from inappropriate conduct and relationships with students and staff.

Objective Leadership

Principals should empower all staff members and students to reach their maximum potential. This is done by allowing teachers to practice reasonable educational freedom without interference. This also means allowing students to be creative in their educational pursuits by honoring their commitments to their own culture and heritage.

Honesty

Principals must apply active and passive honesty.
Principals must never withhold vital information that should be made public.
Principals must also timely report acts of alleged abuse to the proper authorities.

1.12. FACULTY- RIGHTS AND OBLIGATIONS1. Expression

Employees have the right to express themselves within their work areas as long as the expression does not disrupt the vision, mission and objectives of the Institute.

2. Professional development

Employees have the right to seek training and additional work-related skills. The college will pursue training and staff development strategies within its resources.

3. Problem Resolution

Employees have access to problem resolution in procedures. Procedures for such disputes are contained in various appropriate policy documents available.

4. Safety

Employees have the right to a safe and healthy workplace and to be informed of any hazardous working conditions.

5. Civility

Employees have the right to be treated with civility by all authorities, colleagues and subordinates. The College will pursue available strategies within its resources for reducing tensions that may cause incivility.

6. Freedom from violence

Employees have the right to be protected from violent behavior. Violent behavior toward faculty, staff, students, or visitors to the College is neither condoned nor acceptable. Such behavior may provide immediate grounds for dismissal for cause and legal action.

7. Freedom from sexual harassment

The employee has the right to work without sexual harassment. The College has a responsibility to educate its staff about the procedures used to protect/provide justice to the accuser and fair opportunity to the accused to clarify and provide explanation

8. Freedom from discrimination

The employee has the right to be treated without bias. The College has the responsibility to treat with equal concern and fairness all persons without regard to their race, color, religion, creed, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, age, marital status, citizenship status, veteran status, disability, or any other criterion specified by central, state or local laws.

1.13 CODE OF PHARMACEUTICAL ETHICS (PHARMACY PROFESSION):

(As adopted by Pharmacy Council of India)

CHAPTER I

General Introduction

The profession of pharmacy is noble in its ideals and pious in its character. Apart from being a career for earning livelihood it has inherent in it the attitude of service and sacrifice in the interests of the suffering humanity. In handling, selling, distributing, compounding and dispensing medical substances including poisons and potent drugs a pharmacist is, in collaboration with medical men and others, charged with the onerous responsibility of safeguarding the health of people. As such he has to uphold the interests of his patrons above all things. The lofty ideals set up by Charaka, the ancient Philosopher Physician and Pharmacist in his enunciation: "Even if your own life be in danger you should not betray or neglect the interests of your patients" should be fondly cherished by all Pharmacists.

Government restricts the practice of Pharmacy to those who qualify under regulatory requirements and grant them privileges necessarily denied to others. In return Government expects the Pharmacist to recognize his responsibilities and to fulfill his professional obligations honourably and with due regard for the well being of Society.

Standards of professional conduct for pharmacy are necessary in the public interest to ensure an efficient pharmaceutical service. Every pharmacist should not only be willing to play his part in giving such a service but should also avoid any act or omission which would prejudice the giving of the services or impair confidence in any respect for pharmacists as a body.

The nature of pharmaceutical practice is such that its demands may be beyond the capacity of the individual to carry out or to carry out as quickly or as efficiently as the needs of the public require. There should, therefore at all times, be a readiness to assist colleagues with information or advice.

A Pharmacist must, above all be a good citizen and must uphold and defend the laws of the state and the Nation.

CHAPTER II

Pharmacist in Relation to Job Scope of Pharmaceutical Service:

When premises are registered under statutory requirements and opened as a pharmacy, a reasonably comprehensive pharmaceutical service should be provided. This involves the supply of commonly required medicines of this nature without undue delay. It also involves willingness to furnish emergency supplies at all times.

Conduct of the Pharmacy:

The conditions in a pharmacy should be such as to preclude avoidable risk or error or of accidental contamination in the preparation, dispensing and supply of medicines. The appearance of the premises should reflect the professional character of the pharmacy. It should be clear to the public that the practice of pharmacy is carried out in the establishment. Signs, notices, descriptions, wording on business, stationary and related indications, should be restrained in size, design and terms. Descriptions, which denote or imply pharmaceutical qualifications, should be limited to those of which the use is restricted by law and should not draw invidious distinction between pharmacists. A notice stating that dispensing under (Employees State Insurance Scheme) E.S.I.S. or any other such other scheme sponsored by Government is carried out may be exhibited at the premises. In every pharmacy there should be a pharmacist in personal control of the pharmacy who will be regarded as primarily responsible for the observance of proper standards of conduct in connection with it. Any obstruction of the pharmacist in the execution of his duty in the respect by the owner will be regarded as a failure on the part of the owner to observe the standards in question.

Handling of Prescriptions:

When a prescription is presented for dispensing, it should be received by a pharmacist without any discussion or comment over it regarding the merits and demerits of its therapeutic efficiency. The Pharmacist should not even show any physiognomic expression of alarm or astonishment upon the receipt of a prescription; as such things may cause anxiety in patients or their agents and may even shake their faith in their physician. Any question on a prescription should be answered with caution and care; it should neither offend a patron nor should it disclose any information, which might have been intentionally, withheld from him.

It is not within the privilege of a Pharmacist to add, omit or substitute any ingredient or alter the composition of a prescription without the consent of the prescriber, unless the change is emergent or is demanded purely by the technique of the pharmaceutical art and does not cause any alteration in the therapeutic action of the recipe. In case of any obvious error in it due to any omission, incompatibility or overdosage, the prescription should be referred back to the prescriber for correction or approval of the change suggested. While such an act is imperative in the best interest of the patient, in no case should it be done in a manner, which may jeopardize the reputation of the prescriber concerned.

In matter of refilling prescriptions a pharmacist should solely be guided by the instructions of a prescriber and he should advise patients to use medicines or remedies strictly in accordance with the intention of the physician as noted on the prescription.

Handling of Drugs:

All possible care should be taken to dispense a prescription correctly by weighing and measuring all ingredients in correct proportions by the help of scale and measures: visual estimations must be avoided. Further, a Pharmacist should always use drugs and medicinal preparations of standard quality available. He should never fill his prescriptions with spurious, sub-standard and unethical preparations.

A Pharmacist should be very judicious in dealing with drugs and medicinal preparations known to be poisonous or to be used for addiction or any other abusive purposes. Such drugs and preparations should not be supplied to any one if there is reason to suppose that it is required for such purpose.

Apprentice Pharmacist:

While in-charge of a dispensary, drugstore or hospital pharmacy where apprentice pharmacists are admitted for practical training, a pharmacist should see that the trainees are given full facilities for their work so that on the completion of their training they have acquired sufficient technique and skill to make themselves dependable pharmacists. No certificate or credentials should be granted unless the above criterion is attained and the recipient has proved himself worthy of the same.

CHAPTER IIIPharmacist in Relation To His Trade Price Structure:

Prices charged from customers should be fair and in keeping with the quality and quantity of commodity supplied and the labour and skill required in making it ready for use, so as to ensure an adequate remuneration to the pharmacist taking into consideration his knowledge, skill, the time consumed and the great responsibility involved, but at the same time without unduly taxing the purchaser.

Fair Trade Practice:

No attempt should be made to capture the business of a contemporary by cut-throat competition, that is, by offering any sort of prizes or gifts or any kind of allurements to patronizers or by knowingly charging lower prices for medical commodities than those charged by a fellow pharmacist if they be reasonable. In case any order or prescription genuinely intended to be served by some dispensary is brought by mistake to another, the latter should be refuse to accept it and should direct the customer to the right place. Labels, trademarks and other signs and symbols of contemporaries should not be imitated or copied.

Purchase of Drugs:

Drugs should always be purchased from genuine and reputable sources and a pharmacist should always be on his guard not to aid or abet, directly or indirectly the manufacture, possession, distribution and sale of spurious or sub-standard drugs.

Hawking of Drugs:

Hawking of drugs and medicinals should not be encouraged nor should any attempt be made to solicit orders for such substances from door to door. 'Self-service' method of operating pharmacies and drug-stores should not be used as this practice may lead to the distribution of therapeutic substances without an expert supervision and thus would encourage self-medication, which is highly undesirable.

Advertising and Displays:

No display material either on the premises, in the press or elsewhere should be used by a pharmacist in connection with the sale to the public of medicines or medical appliances which is undignified in style or which contains: –

- (a) Any wording design or illustration reflecting unfavourably on pharmacist collectively or upon any group or individual.
- (b) A disparaging reference, direct or by implication to other suppliers, products, remedies or treatments.
- (c) Misleading, or exaggerated statements or claims.
- (d) The word "Cure" in reference to an ailment or symptoms of ill-health.
- (e) A guarantee of therapeutic efficacy.
- (f) An appeal to fear,
- (g) An offer to refund money paid.
- (h) A prize, competition or similar scheme.

- (i) Any reference to a medical practitioner or a hospital or the use of the terms "Doctor" or "Dr." or "Nurse" in connection with the name of a preparation not already established.
- (j) A reference to sexual weakness, premature ageing or loss of virility.
- (k) A reference to complaints of sexual nature in terms which lack the reticence proper to the subject.

No article or preparation advertised to the public by means of display material of a kind mentioned above should be exhibited in a pharmacy if it is known or could reasonably be known that the article or preparation is so advertised.

Contraceptive preparations and appliances or their illustrations should not be exhibited except a notice approved by regulations or bearing the words "Family Planning Requisites". Under no circumstances should lustful obscene and indecent publications of any kind or description be sold or distributed. As this practice is highly detrimental to the moral welfare of the Nation.

CHAPTER IV

Pharmacist In Relation To Medical Profession Limitation Of professional Activity:

Whereas it is expected that medical practitioners in general would not take to the practice of pharmacy by owning drugstores, as this ultimately leads to coded prescriptions and monopolistic practices detrimental to the pharmaceutical profession and also to the interest of patients, it should be made a general rule that pharmacists under no circumstances take to medical practice, that is to diagnosing diseases and prescribing remedies therefore even if requested by patrons to do so. In cases of accidents and emergencies a pharmacist may, however, render First Aid to the victim.

No pharmacist should recommend particular medical practitioner unless specifically asked to do so.

Clandstine Arrangements:

No pharmacist should enter into any secret arrangements or contract with a physician to offer him any commission or any advantage of any description in return for his favour of patronage by recommending his dispensary or drugstore or even his self to patients.

Liaison with public:

Being a liaison between medical profession and people, a pharmacist should always keep himself abreast with the modern developments in pharmacy and other allied sciences by regularly reading books, journals, magazines and other periodicals, so that on the one hand he may be in a position to advise the physician on pharmaceutical matters like those of colours, flavours, vehicles and newer forms of administration of medicines, on the other he may be able to educate the people for maintaining healthy and sanitary conditions of living.

Thus a pharmacist can contribute his share in the nation-building activities of the country. A pharmacist should at all times endeavour to promote knowledge and contribute his quota in the advancement of learning.

A pharmacist should never disclose any information which he has acquired during his professional activities to any third party or person unless required by law to do so. He should never betray the confidence which his patrons repose in him or which he has won by virtue of his eminent character and conduct.

CHAPTER VPharmacist in Relation To his Profession Professional Vigilance:

It is not only sufficient for a pharmacist to be law-abiding and to deter from doing things derogatory to Society and his profession, but it should be his bounden duty to make others also fulfil the provisions of the pharmaceutical and other laws and regulations. He should not be afraid of bringing or causing a miscreant to be brought to book, may be a member of his own profession. Whereas it is obligatory for a pharmacist to extend help and cooperation to a fellow member in his legitimate needs, scientific, technical or otherwise, he is to be, at the same time, vigilant to weed the undesirable out of the profession and thus help to maintain its fair name and traditions.

Law-abiding Citizens:

A pharmacist engaged in profession has to be an enlightened citizen endowed with a fair knowledge of the land and he should strive to countenance and defend them. He should be particularly conversant with the enactments pertaining to food, drug, pharmacy, health, sanitation and the like and endeavour to abide by them in every phase of his life. A pharmacist is a unit whole and his life cannot be divided into compartments.

Relationship with professional Organisations:

In order to inculcate a corporate life in his own professional colleagues, a pharmacist should join and advance the cause of all such organisations, the aims and objects of which are conducive to scientific moral and cultural well-being of pharmacists and at the same time are in no way contrary to the code of pharmaceutical ethics.

Decorum and Propriety:

A pharmacist should always refrain from doing all such acts and deeds which are not in consonance with the decorum and propriety of pharmaceutical profession or which are likely to bring discredit or upgrade to the profession or to himself.

1.14. CODE OF PROFESSIONAL ETHICS (TEACHING PROFESSION)

TEACHERS AND THEIR RESPONSIBILITIES

Whoever adopts teaching as a profession assumes the obligation to conduct himself /herself in accordance with the ideal of the profession. A teacher is constantly under the scrutiny of his students and the society at large. Therefore, every teacher should see that there is no incompatibility between his precepts and practice. The national ideals of education which have already been set forth and which he/she should seek to inculcate among students must be his/her own ideals. The profession further requires that the teachers should be calm, patient and communicative by temperament and amiable in disposition.

- Teachers should

1. Adhere to a responsible pattern of conduct and demeanor expected of them by the community;
2. Manage their private affairs in a manner consistent with the dignity of the profession;
3. Seek to make professional growth continuous through study and research;

4. Express free and frank opinion by participation at professional meetings, seminars, conferences etc. towards the contribution of knowledge.
5. Maintain active membership of professional organizations and strive to improve education and profession through them.
6. Perform their duties in the form of teaching, tutorial, practical, seminar and research work conscientiously and with dedication.
7. Co-operate and assist in carrying out functions relating to the educational responsibilities of the college and the university such as assisting in appraising applications for admission, advising and counseling students as well as assisting the conduct of university and college examinations, including supervision, invigilation and evaluation.
8. Participate in extension, co-curricular and extra-curricular activities including community service.

-TEACHERS AND THE STUDENTS

1. Respect the right and dignity of the student in expressing his/her opinion.
2. Deal justly and impartially with students regardless of their religion, caste, political, economic, social and physical characteristics.
3. Recognize the difference in aptitude and capabilities among students and strive to meet their individual needs.
4. Encourage students to improve their attainments, develop their personalities and at the same time contribute to community welfare.
5. Inculcate among students a scientific outlook and respect for physical labor and ideals of democracy, patriotism and peace.
6. Be affectionate to the students and not behave in a vindictive manner towards any of them for any reason.
7. Pay attention to only the attainment of the student in the assessment of merit.
8. Make themselves available to the students even beyond their class hours and help and guide students without any remuneration or reward.
9. Aid students to develop an understanding of our national heritage and national goals and imbibe ethics, human values and sense of social responsibility.
10. Refrain from inciting students against other students, colleagues or administration.

-TEACHERS AND COLLEAGUES

1. Treat other members of the profession in the same manner as they themselves wish to be treated.
2. Speak respectfully of other teachers and render assistance for professional betterment.
3. Refrain from lodging unsubstantiated allegations against colleagues to higher authorities
4. Refrain from allowing considerations of caste, creed, religion, race or sex in their professional endeavor.

-TEACHERS AND NON-TEACHING STAFF

1. Teachers should treat the non-teaching staff as colleagues and equal partners in a cooperative undertaking, within every educational institution.
2. Teachers should help in the function of joint staff councils covering both teachers and the non-teaching staff.

- TEACHERS AND GUARDIANS

1. Try to ensure, through teacher's bodies and organizations, that institutions maintain contact with the guardians, their students, send reports of their performance to the guardians whenever necessary and meet the guardians in meetings convened for the purpose of mutual exchange of ideas and for the benefit of the institution.

-TEACHERS AND SOCIETY

1. Recognize that education is a public service and strive to keep the public informed of the educational programs which are being provided.
2. Work to improve education in the community and strengthen the community's moral and intellectual life.
3. Be aware of social problems and take part in such activities as would be conducive to the progress of society and hence the country as a whole.
4. Perform the duties of citizenship, participate in community activities and shoulder responsibilities of public offices.

5. Refrain from taking part in or subscribing to or assisting in any way, activities which tend to promote feeling of hatred or enmity among different communities, religions or linguistic groups but actively work for National Integration.

- TEACHERS AND AUTHORITIES

Teacher should:

1. Discharge their responsibilities according to the existing rules and adhere to procedures and methods consistent with their profession in initiating steps through their own institutional bodies and/or professional organizations for change of any such rule detrimental of the professional interest.
2. Refrain from undertaking any other employment and commitment, including private tuitions and coaching classes which are likely to interfere with their professional responsibilities.
3. Co-operate in the formulation of policies of the institution by accepting various office orders and discharge responsibilities which such offices may demand.
4. Co-operate through their organizations in the formulation of policies of the other institutions and accept office orders.
5. Co-operate with authorities for the betterment of the institutions keeping in view the interest and in conformity with dignity of the profession.
6. Should adhere to the conditions of contract.
7. Give and expect due notice before a change of position is made.
8. Refrain from availing of leave except on unavoidable grounds and as far as practicable responsibilities of academic schedule.

1.15. CODES OF ETHICS FOR STUDENTS: BEST VALUES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

INTRODUCTION

The Code of Student Conduct has been formulated to provide a clear statement of the College expectations of students in respect of academic matters and personal behaviour.

It addresses the interdependent duties, rights and responsibilities of faculty members and educational partners. Moreover, it seeks to encourage continued reflection and thoughtful response to ethical issues. It does not seek definitive answers to all ethical questions or situations. Rather, it seeks to outline the guiding principles to ethical conduct and to identify major issues.

1. Code of Ethics for students – Core values

This section aims to presents broad values and ethical principles, based on our analysis of 10 ethical codes from different universities all around the world. Indeed, we noticed that even if Codes of Ethics for students may differ from an institution to another, there are 7 values that seem universal.

a) Integrity

Integrity is defined as, “Adherence to moral and ethical principles; soundness of moral character; honesty.” Having integrity means being totally honest and truthful in every part of your life. By making the commitment to become a totally honest person, you will be doing more to ensure your success and happiness in life than anything else you can ever do.

Students with integrity will work hard to earn their degrees in a fair and honest way by putting in the hours to study and complete assignments. When a student intentionally cheats through college/university, this integrity is compromised and the value of the degree and the morals of the individual are diminished. This lack of credibility then follows you into the workforce and can impact your professional goals. Nobody wants a doctor who cheated to get his medical degree to perform a life or death surgery on them or a bad engineer to build bridges.

In fact, many studies have found that people who engage in academically dishonest practices in school are significantly more likely to be dishonest, cheat, or even commit crimes like fraud or stealing in the workplace.

b) Respect

Respect could be defined as “a feeling or understanding that someone or something is important, serious, etc., and should be treated in an appropriate way”. Being respectful towards people is a key aspect in life in order to form and maintain positive relationships in order to become successful. If you treat them with kindness, they will be kind back. One way to show respect towards other people is to treat others the way you would want to be treated.

c) Open-mindedness

Being open-minded means you have a willingness to listen to other ideas and opinions and consider the possibility that you are wrong or may change your own perspective.

Open-mindedness can advance mutual understanding, which accommodates the ideal of students working constructively and cohesively toward achieving common goals, despite intense disagreement.

d) Discipline

The word “Discipline” comes from the word “Disciple” meaning a learner. Discipline means learning to obey certain rules. Without it, there will be complete chaos and disorder everywhere in our society. There are some rules that control our activities. If we do not respect these rules, our life will be like a car without the driver.

The ability for an individual to have self-restraint allows them to behave in a consistently stringent and controlled manner. A lack of this ability can have disastrous results. Do you think a company is going to tolerate a person who is consistently late to work or who procrastinates in doing their work? It is evident how these behaviors will weaken the image of a business.

e) Tolerance

Tolerance can be seen as the willingness to accept feelings, habits, or beliefs that are different from your own. Tolerance means how to see the world from the perspective of others, not just your perspective.

Tolerance plays an important role in our everyday life in our society. Never before have we had so many opportunities to connect and communicate with different cultures and languages.

Our society has become increasingly multicultural, enriched by the aspirations of migrants, transnationals, displaced peoples,... Tensions arising from religious, cultural and linguistic difference are increasing, but tolerance an effective and sustainable way of ensuring our young people understand diversity and that's why this value is so present in codes of ethical student conduct.

f) Team spirit

Team spirit can be defined as when the members of a group want the team to succeed. Team spirit improves the ability of individuals to work together and boosts morale.

In an academic context, this is an opportunity to make friends and talk with others. Each student can benefit on a personal level from teamwork. A team of students must actively listen to each other, articulate ideas and use genuinely constructive criticism to be effective.

g) Sense of responsibility

Responsibility is one of the traits of our character which means that a person is able to respond for his actions, is able to take some duties and to face certain consequences of the actions that may occur.

People are not born with a sense of responsibility, it is something every person should cultivate in them, it should become a part of one's personality. Responsible people can be trusted, and this benefits both the person and the people counting on the responsible person.

All these values are the reason why an Ethical Code of Conduct is relevant for any academic institution. To make sure that every student is aware of what he can and what he cannot do, Students are expected to adhere to and practice the Code of Ethics on an academic level.

2. Student responsibilities towards the members of the college

The code of ethical students defines the rights and students' responsibilities. These rights and responsibilities are at the root of the relationship between members of the college community, and students. It has been formulated to provide a clear statement of the college expectations of students in respect of academic matters and personal behavior. Students have responsibilities towards professors, college employees and other students.

To establish a perfect harmony between teachers and students the college should recognize and value the diversity of student experiences and expectations, and is committed to treating students, both academically and personally, in a fair and transparent manner. All students, in return, are required to comply with the requirements set down in this Code of Conduct. This is how the code adapts to the diversity of students.

a) Responsibilities towards professors

In order to establish a perfect cohesion within the college, students have obligations towards their professors. Same rules are found in most university codes of conduct.

Meet deadlines

It is important that students return their assignments on time so that the teacher respects his program and does not penalize students.

Do not be late

Punctuality is a principle that is generally written into the rules of the Codes.

b) Responsibilities towards other students

The notions of civism, respect and, even more, politeness may seem obsolete and even archaic in our time when individualism sometimes makes us forget the existence of others. Collaboration, mutual aid and harmonious relations are very important values that students should share.

Do not steal the colleagues' material

Fraud and plagiarism on other Students

Discrimination of other students

c) Responsibilities towards College employees

All codes generally state that employees must be respected.

Students have to treat all employees, honorary appointees, consultants, contractors, volunteers any other members of the public and other students with respect, dignity, impartiality, courtesy and sensitivity maintain a cooperative and collaborative approach to inter-personal relationships.

They have to act honestly and ethically in their dealings with University employees, honorary appointees, consultants, contractors, volunteers, any other members of the public and other students and respect the privacy of employees, honorary appointees, consultants, contractors, volunteers any other members of the public and other students.

1.16. UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Preamble

Whereas recognition of the inherent dignity and of the equal and inalienable rights of all members of the human family is the foundation of freedom, justice and peace in the world,

Whereas disregard and contempt for human rights have resulted in barbarous acts which have outraged the conscience of mankind, and the advent of a world in which human beings shall enjoy freedom of speech and belief and freedom from fear and want has been proclaimed as the highest aspiration of the common people,

Whereas it is essential, if man is not to be compelled to have recourse, as a last resort, to rebellion against tyranny and oppression, that human rights should be protected by the rule of law,

Whereas it is essential to promote the development of friendly relations between nations,

Whereas the peoples of the United Nations have in the Charter reaffirmed their faith in fundamental human rights, in the dignity and worth of the human person and in the equal rights of men and women and have determined to promote social progress and better standards of life in larger freedom,

1.17. UNIVERSAL/MORAL VALUES OF LIFE

Moral values are important in life because: Moral values reflect an individual's character and spirituality. They help in building good relationships in personal as well as professional lives. They can help in eradicating problems like dishonesty, violence, cheating and jealousy from one's life.

It would serve society well if the following seven moral values were followed:

- Unconditional Love and Kindness
- Honesty
- Hard Work
- Respect for Others
- Co-operation
- Compassion
- Forgiveness
