Description of Activity:

Volunteers of National Service Scheme and staff visited village Khubavali in Mulshi Taluka to help farmers in rice plantation. Agriculture forms the foundation and backbone of Indian socioeconomic system. Mulshai and western regions of Pune district farmers grow rice as the major crop. The human resources available for the agricultural activities is limited to family members of the farmers only and due to poor economy they can't afford to hire labors.

Therefore this activity was designed to provide the manpower of volunteers of the National Service Scheme (NSS) to help the farmers. It was also aimed to provide the opportunity to students to study the farming activities, process and understand the rural economy. The activities were focused on intense observations and analysis of the socioeconomic profile of farm families in rural area, participatory extension approach and acquaintance with farming situations, farm practices and interaction with progressive farmers.

Activity highlights:

1. The site: Students reached village khubavali early morning at 7am using college bus.

2. Basic education: Local farmer Mr. Kiran Satpute and his family briefed the students about how rice farming is done. They were shown the seedling plot where rice crops are germinated in bulk by throwing seeds and then transported to the main field for plantation.
3. Plantation of the seedlings: Students removed the grown seedlings, divided them into small bunches as instructed by the farmers and carried them to the main field. The main field was converted into a mud plot. The seedlings were then planted into the main plant in straight lines.
4. Area of work: Rice plantation was done over an area of 3.5 acres.

Learning about the harvesting process: The team was educated by the farmers about the crop duration and harvesting process. They were introduced to the milling process and forecasted yield of the rice grains.

Description of Activity:

Constitution Day, also known as Samvidhan Diwas, is observed in India on November 26th every year to commemorate the adoption of the Indian Constitution on this day in 1949. It is a significant occasion that reminds citizens of the principles and values enshrined in the Constitution and the responsibilities that come with being a part of a democratic nation. AISSMS College of Pharmacy celebrated Constitution Day with great enthusiasm to promote Constitution values among citizens. This day served as an important tool for instilling a sense of pride and responsibility among students and faculty members. It provided an opportunity for everyone to reflect on the significance of the Indian Constitution and the rights it bestows upon the citizens. By organizing various activities and events, the college demonstrated its commitment to fostering awareness and understanding of the Constitution, which serves as the bedrock of India's democratic values. The celebration served as a reminder to the academic community about the importance of being responsible citizens and contributing to the progress of the nation in alignment with the ideals laid out in the Indian Constitution.

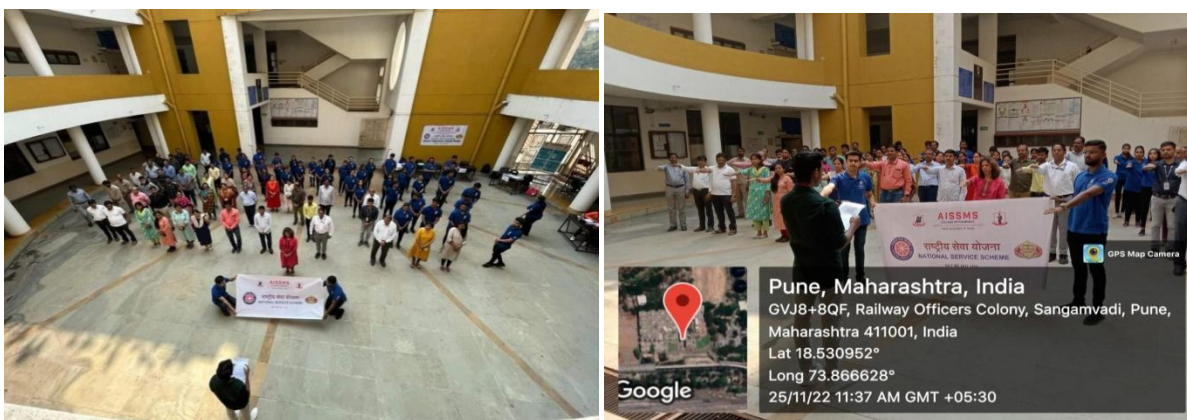

Event Highlights:

Preamble Pledge of the Constitution of India: Teaching, non teaching staff and students gathered on the ground floor of the college. Everyone read the pledge of the preamble of the Constitution of India with a sense of being responsible for the duties and constitutional obligations.

- 1) Lecture on constitutional duties, rights and obligations: Ms. Sakshi Shinde, a student of SY B Pharm delivered a lecture for sensitizing the students and staff towards duties and rights of the citizen and constitutional obligations. She reinforced the importance of active citizenship, respect for others' rights, and the need to fulfill one's duties towards the nation and society.

Through such initiatives, AISSMS College of Pharmacy demonstrated its commitment to nurturing well-informed, engaged, and conscientious citizens who will contribute positively to the nation's progress and uphold the principles laid down in the Constitution. The activity's success also highlights the institution's dedication to promoting holistic education that goes beyond academic excellence and includes a strong sense of civic responsibility among its students.

Description of Activity:

NSS Unit of AISSMS College of Pharmacy undertook a village cleaning activity in village Wadki which is the adopted village for NSS activities. The purpose of this initiative was to promote cleanliness, raise awareness about waste management, and instill a sense of responsibility among the villagers towards maintaining a clean and hygienic environment. The event not only promoted cleanliness but also fostered a sense of community spirit and responsibility among the villagers and the college community. The active participation of the villagers showcased their commitment to maintaining a clean and hygienic environment. By engaging with the villagers during the awareness campaign, the college students effectively conveyed the significance of waste management and sustainable practices. The event served as a stepping stone towards building a cleaner and healthier village environment. AISSMS College of Pharmacy remains committed to organizing such initiatives, promoting environmental consciousness, and making a positive impact on society. By continuing to collaborate with the villagers and other communities, the college aims to contribute to the broader goal of achieving a cleaner and more sustainable world.

Activities:

- 1) Planning and Coordination: Prior to the event, the students and faculty members organized a planning meeting to discuss the logistics and ensure a smooth execution of the village cleaning activity. The areas to be cleaned were identified, and teams were formed for efficient cleaning.
- 2) Cleaning Drive: NSS volunteers gathered at the village center. They were divided into groups, each assigned to clean specific areas such as streets, public spaces, and common gathering areas.
- 3) Waste Segregation: The participants were trained in waste segregation techniques. They carried separate bins for different types of waste to ensure recyclable items were separated from non-recyclable ones.
- 4) Awareness Campaign: Along with the cleaning drive, an awareness campaign was conducted by the students. They interacted with the villagers, explaining the importance of keeping the environment clean and the adverse effects of littering.
- 5) Cleaning Tools and Equipment: The college provided the necessary cleaning tools and equipment, including gloves, brooms, dustbins, and trash bags, to ensure the safety and effectiveness of the activity.

Description of Activity:

NSS volunteers and faculty members from AISSMS College of Pharmacy conducted an educational program at a rural school in village Wadki. The primary focus of this initiative was to promote tolerance, understanding, and harmony among the young students towards cultural, linguistic, communal, and socioeconomic diversity in their community.

Activities:

- 1) Interactive Sessions: The program began with interactive sessions led by NSS volunteers. These sessions included discussions, storytelling, and games, all centered around themes of cultural, linguistic, communal, and socioeconomic diversity. These activities were designed to make the learning experience engaging and enjoyable for the school students.
- 2) Introduction to various spoken languages: Students were introduced to various spoken languages apart from their mother tongue (Marathi) like Hindi, English, Gujrati, Sanskrut and Kannada. Basic phrases and greetings were taught, encouraging the children to embrace linguistic diversity and communicate with each other in various languages.
- 3) Socioeconomic Awareness: Discussions were held to help the students understand various socioeconomic backgrounds. The college students shared inspiring stories of individuals who overcame challenges to achieve success, reinforcing the importance of empathy and support for their peers.

- 4) Drawing competition: A drawing competition was organized for the school students with the theme of cultural diversity.
